Typename & style

Quicksand

Quicksand is a display sans serif with rounded terminals. The project was initiated by Andrew Paglinawan in 2008 using geometric shapes as a core foundation.

A circular wooden object, possibly a lid or part of a box, showing signs of wear and discoloration.

A close-up, low-angle shot of a dark, textured pipe resting on a light-colored surface. The pipe's curved shape and grainy texture are highlighted by dramatic lighting.

The image shows the front cover of an antique book. The cover is made of dark, heavily textured material, possibly leather or cloth. A large, ornate monogram 'M' is blind-tooled into the upper left corner. In the center, there is a larger, more complex floral or foliate motif. Along the right edge, the title 'МОДУЛЬ ГОДЛІВСЬКИЙ' is embossed in a decorative font. Below the title, there is a horizontal band with a repeating pattern of small, stylized floral or geometric motifs.
